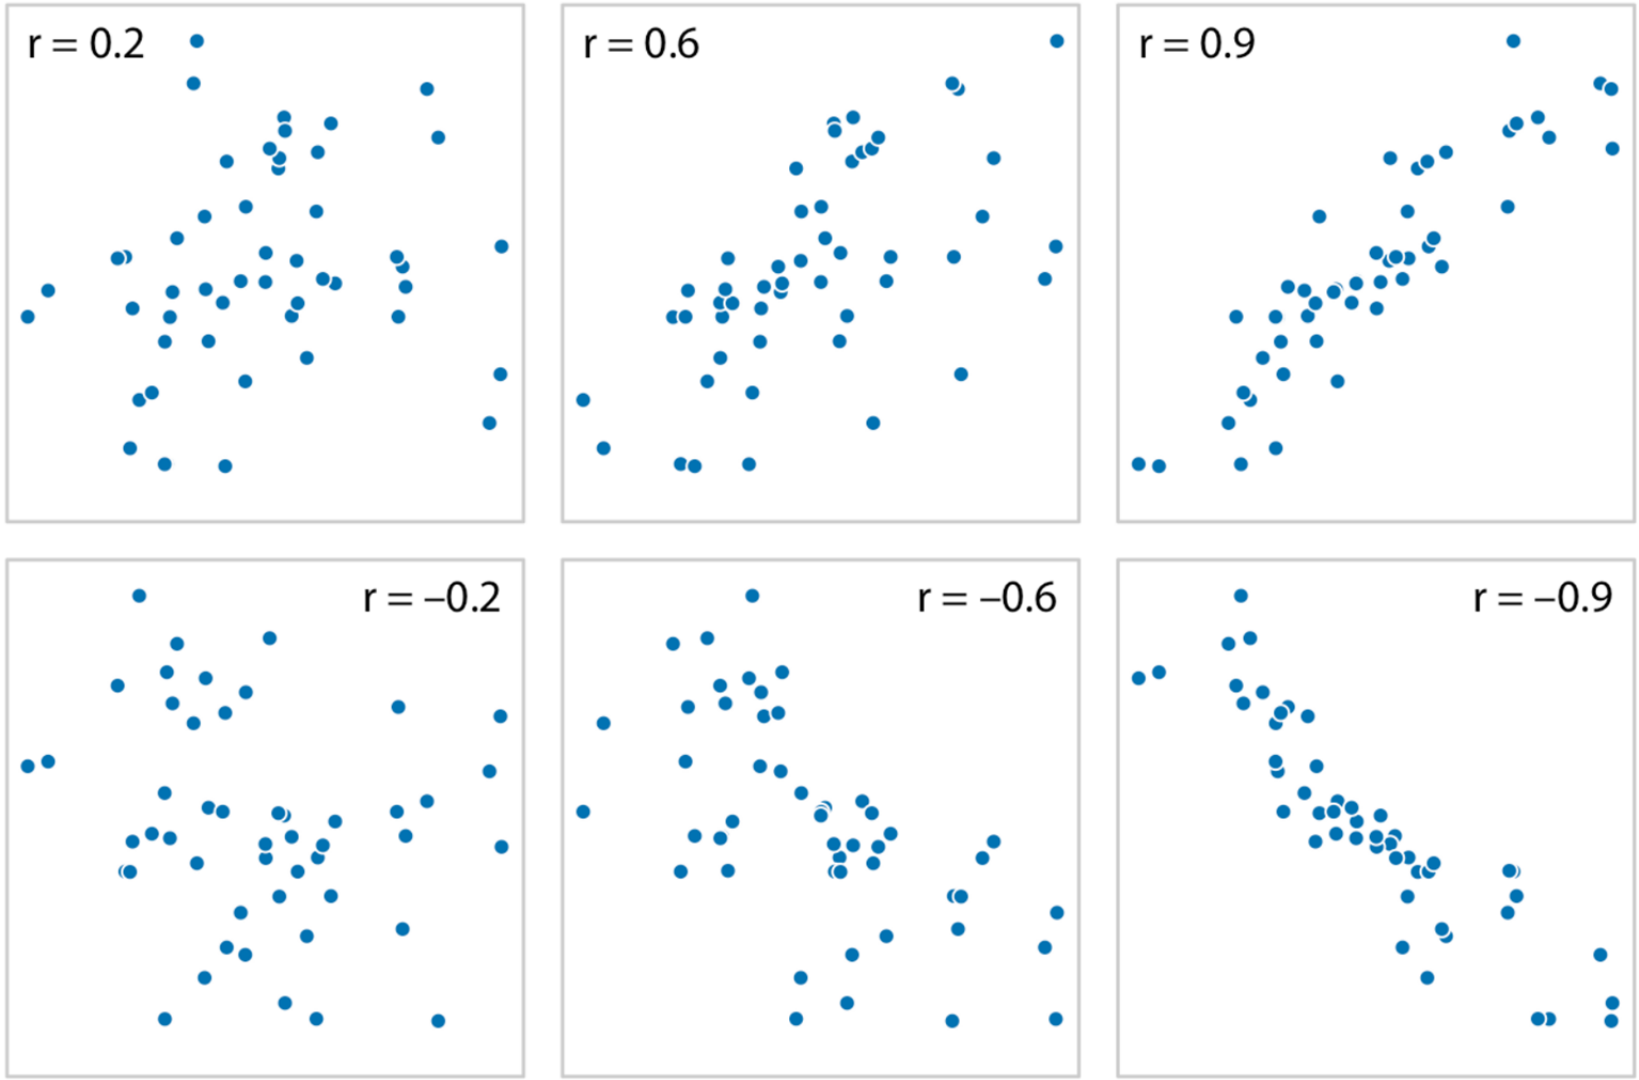
Correlograms

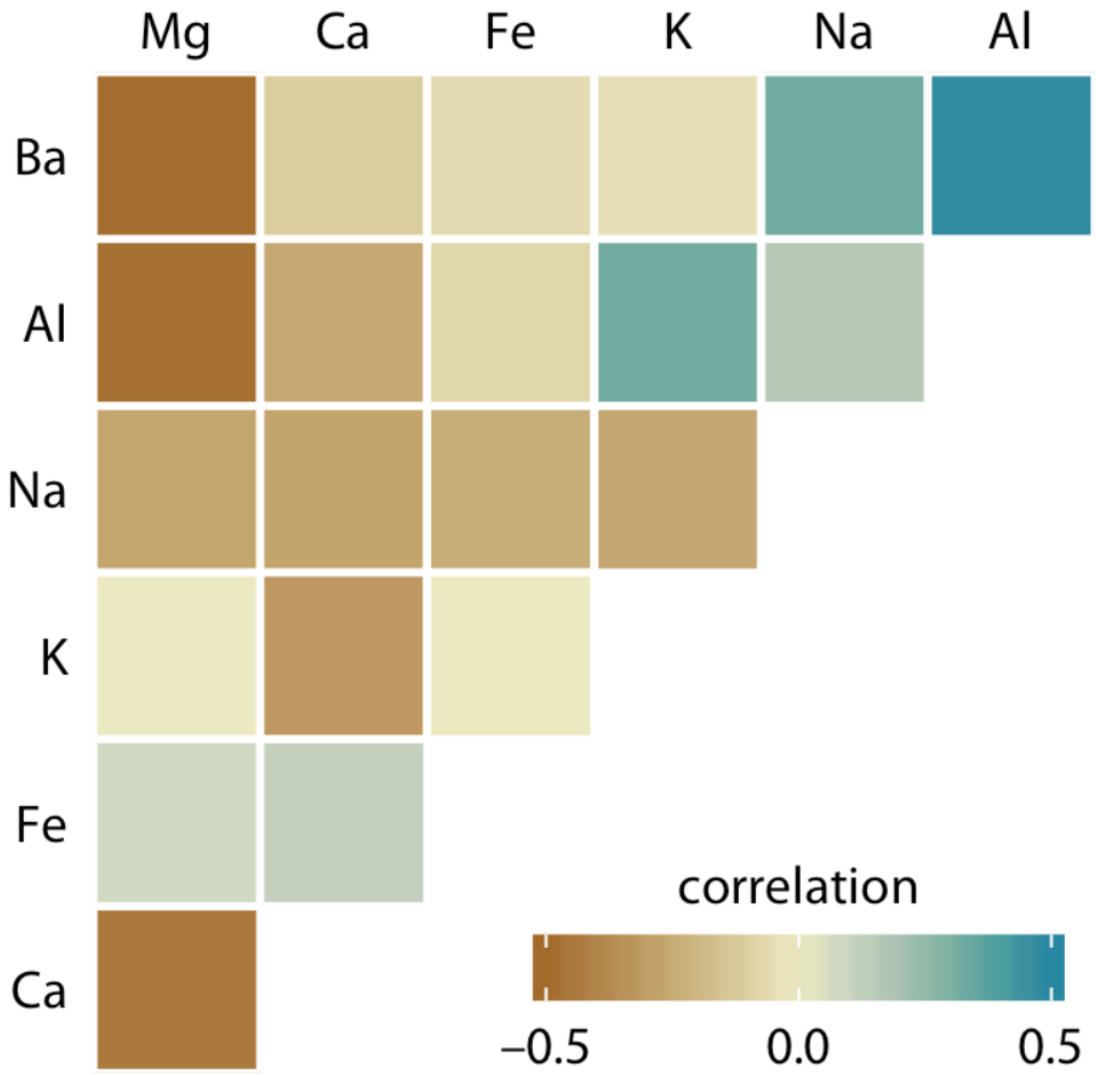
- useful when we want to visualize the relationships between more than 3-4 quantitative variables
- good for big picture relationships, although information is lost by not leveraging raw data

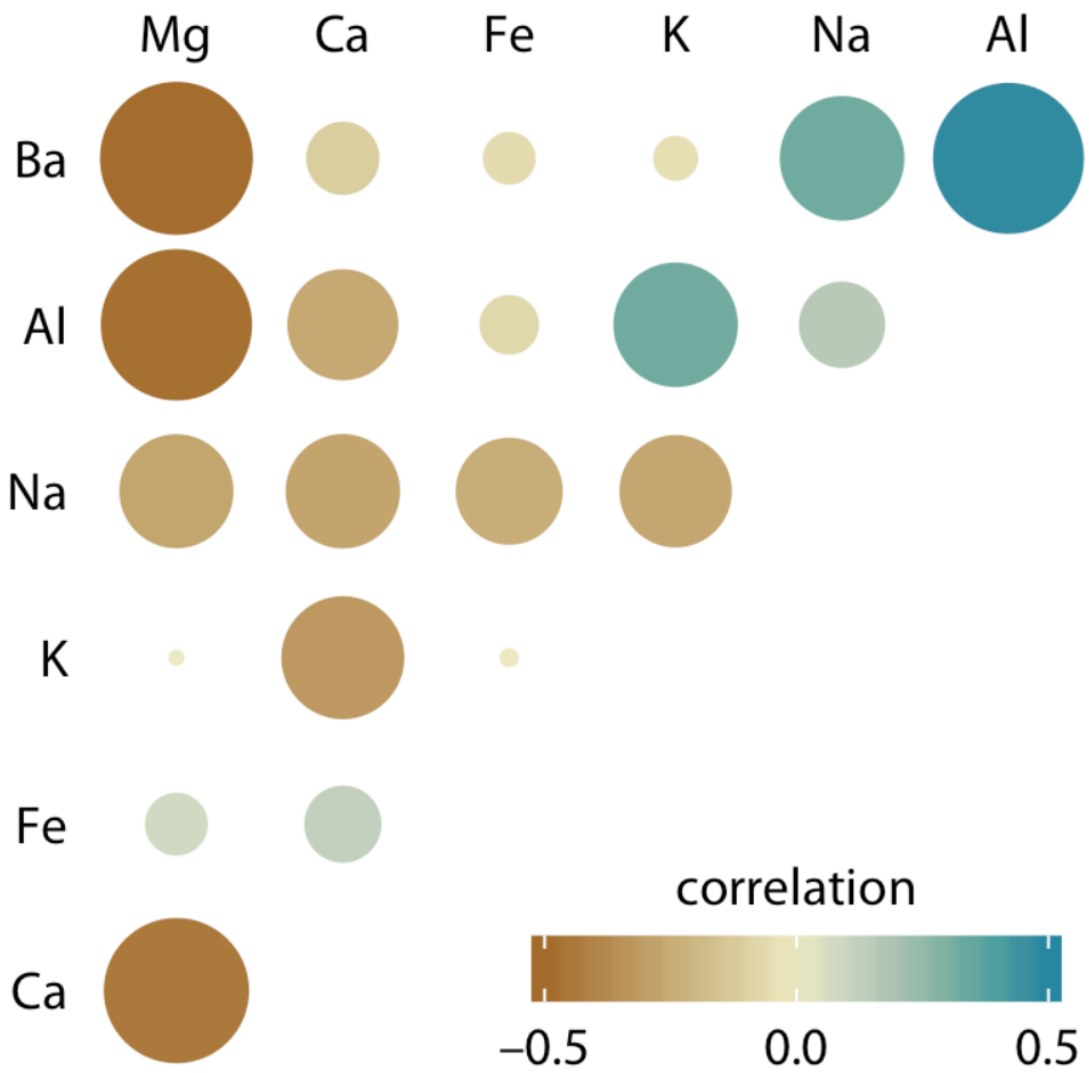
Correlation Coefficient (r)

- bounded between -1 and 1
- measures strength of linear relationship between two quantitative variables-

Correlation Examples







Correlogram Examples