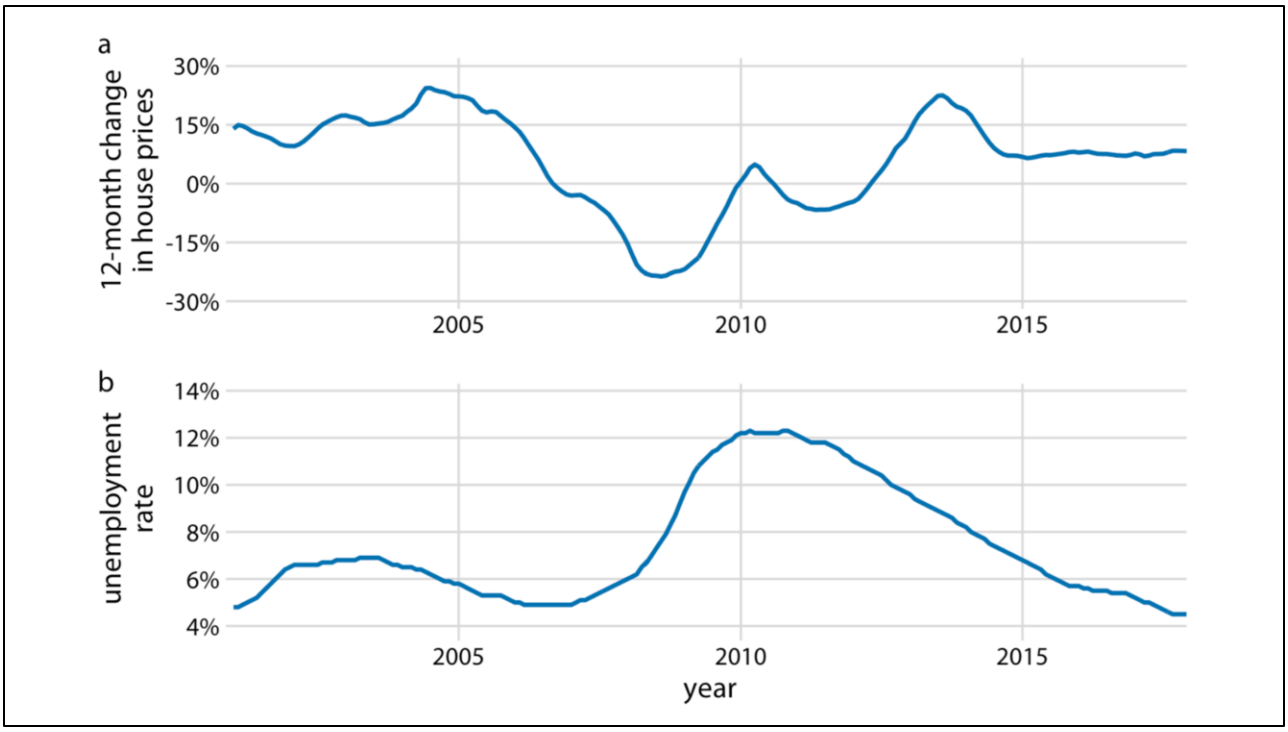
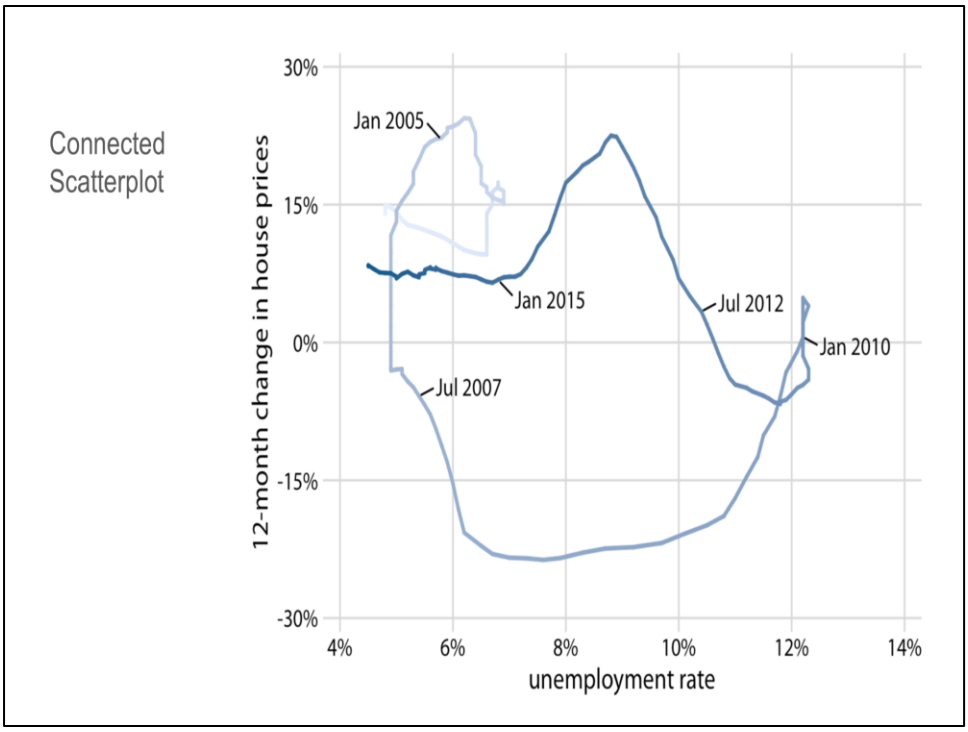
Line Plots - Two or More Response Variables



Different Y values that share the same X axis values



- Connected scatter plot
  - Because the X axis is shared
    - X - axis represents data for one response variable
    - Y - axis represents the second response variable